Gregory Defends 'White Agitators'.

in Vietnam we are fighting a racist war which is being supported by people of the ROTC.

President Reagan, member of the Free Campus group, took issue to the defense of the activities, telling the crowd that, "If you ask me an action like Monday's go on, you are destroying the University because it breeds a reaction from the outside community of people who don't know what's happening." A member of the audience then asked Harger, "Why don't you evacuate them?"

FASTER IMPLEMENTATION

Geogdoss pointed out that the only major thing growing out of Monro's immediate view was a little master implementation of black grievances that would have occurred. Only if we had been working on those items for a few weeks, the situation of Monday just brought the focus a little closer to all of us about the job we have to do.

Geogdoss refused to sanc- tion the black actions, saying that "Monday wasn't the right way and it cannot be that way, I don't think you can realize the personal attack from the state and local people that has been focused on the administration the past few years.

"We really hurt when the hate-cokens of fifth come out, it makes you sick."

RALLY IS "WHITEWASH"

Black students expressed their dissatisfaction over the rally that was held in response to the rioting at the University. They pointed out that the rally was not the "whitewash" the rally was being labeled as a "whitewash" and pointing up its failure to adequately discuss the issues raised by Monday's protest.

Neronneus, the group's outside group, also addressed the rally, taking differing points of view. Sociology Professor Pete Hall announced that his office had been changed to Mahon Hall, and I mean that sincerely, "It is very important that the entire student body go on record to support the Chancellor's de-sion. This administration needs to be supported, we would like to urge all of my colleagues on the academic senate to give priority to the implementation of a Black Studies program. They should also talk about a similar program for the Chicano." "Whether you have soul, or a soul, regardless of whether your black or white, it is imperative that we begin to move fast and with real action," Hall emphasized.

SACRAMENTO (AP) -- Democratic Assembly-

Speaker Jesse M. Unruh branded as a "liar" Wednesday Gov. Reagan's claim that there is "no price tag" for getting bills approved by Assembly committees.

"That is a lie," Unruh said in a telephone call to the Republican governor, Unruh aides distributed copies to the press in Sacramento.

The speaker challenged Reagan to a televised debate on the issue and said, "Your failure to do so will inevitably lead to the conclusion that you are a coward as well as a liar."

In an appearance at Anheim on Tuesday, Reagan said the "price tag" is contributions to campaigns of Democratic Assembly caucuses and he identified Unruh as "the handler of campaign funds for the candidates."

Both Reagan and Unruh have been traveling throughout the state on behalf of legislative candidates. Reagan is hoping for a Republican majority...something that would upset Unruh as speaker.

Unruh is attempting to at least maintain the 42-39 Democratic majority in the Assembly. Reagan passed a California labor official as saying: "I am tired of paying Jesse Unruh to get legislation out of committee."

Reagan then added in his own words that "the price tag goes into the presentation from which it is funded the caucuses of Democratic candidates backed by Unruh."

"He later told newsmen "I don't mean to imply personal gain, it is a matter of funding, campaign funding."

In another feature of their running battle, Unruh said Reagan "as basically responsible" for Richard M. Nixon's selection of Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew as the GOP vice presidential nominee.

"We've been all you're talking about is how to do something drastic to head off Reagan's drive among southern delegates at the Republican convention, he would never have pleased Agnew," Unruh said.

Unruh commented on a speech prepared for a Democratic fund-raising appearance in Nevada.

MARK THOSE DAYS of wine and roses (beach and beer)! May soon be over—Chad Week is but six weeks away. Don't say you weren't warned.
