Fifty Join ‘Free Campus,’
Dedicated to ‘Due Process’

An attempt to organize UCSB’s ‘minority movement’ attracted about 100 students yesterday, as Bruce Harper, self-appointed president of Free Campus, opened the group’s first meeting.

During the meeting because of the presence of about 15 unfriendly students, the meeting did not get around to discussion of the group’s purposes and goals.

Those who finally committed themselves to Free Campus, making up about half of the original group, seemed in agreement that the object of the movement was to express the ‘majority opinion of students.’ This majority opinion was conceived as dedication to “due process” and that the group was to be a forum for achieving change.

CANT’M TRAMPLE
Harper’s word was, “We don’t think that change in democracy can be made by trampling on the rights of others.”

Students present apparently felt that ISBP’s occupation of Storke Hall was harassment of their rights. One student said he felt it to be a sense of injustice when he could not attend his classes in New Music Monday.

Despite obvious dissatisfaction with DEU’s actions, those present at ISBP demonstration, the group claims to be “non-partisan.”

Hargreaves, leader, as Free Campus “includes everyone except extremists, and revolutionaries,” which he defines as anyone who goes out of their way to disrupt and break rules.

LAW AND ORDER
Other ideas expressed included “preserving order on campus,” acting as a pressure group “at least equivalent to ISBP.”

Harper’s answer to a question about the “premises of radical actions” was by showing the mass media that the majority of students believe in “law and order” and being an “opposition” organization which recognizes disturbances and tries to prevent or decrease their effect.

“The majority in what compasses this group,” Gary Langstaff, Vice President, declared, “is Free Campus.” Harper majorly opinions.

served with all Divisions of the University Administrative Senate.

Earlier, the Student Body President of UCSB had presented the Regents with two resolutions and demanded “immediate action.”

The first stated that it would become University policy to support a proposal to require that A.S. Farm Worker’s Organizing Committee (FWOC), including the boycott of California table grapes, be called for complete amnesty for the 11 arrested Monday in a sit-in of Santa Barbara City College.

The second resolution asked that the seven college at UCSB be named “Maria Rita’s College.”

The Regents did not act on either resolution.

The demonstrators used “piratia tactics” in the small courtyard outside the dining commons where the Regents met. At times the noise became so great that it was impossible to hear inside the room.

At one point about 50 of the demonstrators surged into the building where the Regents met. No violence was reported.

Black Panther Cleaver
Speaks Here Monday

Eldridge Cleaver is scheduled to arrive on campus next Monday morning, October 21, and remain all day, touring the campus, meeting students and professors, and addressing the general public.

Cleaver’s lecture, sponsored by the Black Panther Emergency Relief (BRETRO), will be delivered at 3 p.m., at Campus Field.

There has been little comment from this campus concerning the lecture, but the administration has received numerous calls from the general public asking that the lecture be stopped. Never the less, it has been reported that over a thousand tickets have been sold.

BRETRO has explained to EL GACIO that all proceeds from the lecture above Cleaver’s expenses, will go to assist the children of Sierra, the revolutionary region of Nicaragua. Almost six million people there have already died of starvation and much help is needed.

Tickets can be purchased in the UCM Information booth for 50 cents. BRETRO advises those students expecting to attend to purchase tickets beforehand. This will eliminate the chance of missing the beginning of the lecture due to the expected long lines.

REGENTS’ MEETING...

Nagler, who attended the National Student Association Conference last weekend at the Devils Campus, reported his findings to Council. The NSA’s major concern on campus is educational reform and educational politics. It has recently been given a $300,000 grant from the Ford Foundation for aiding in the development of experiential and colleges around the nation.

NSA’s left wing political philosophy, which caused previous skepticism on the part of some Council members, was not an issue at the Conference. As Nagler will invite as NSA Representative to Santa Barbara within the next two weeks or so to become familiar with the possibility of membership.

With disappointment, Paul Sweet, A.S. President, read a letter of resignation from Leonile Wheatley, Berever Representative on Council. At the opening of this position, interested Greek women were urged to sign up at the A.S. office in the UCM before next Wednesday.

During the latter part of Wednesday’s Council meeting, Jim Gregory that Council that should be named Malcolm X Hall. Though only the Regents can take formal action on such matters, in the spirit of the bylaw the body may choose to refer to the building by this name, and may in the future, recommend a recommendation to the Regents.
